Jerr-Dan® Adds Midco Sales of Chandler, Arizona, as a Distributor

Hagerstown, MD (February 16, 2021) – Jerr-Dan, an Oshkosh Corporation company (NYSE: OSK), has added Midco Sales of Chandler, Arizona, as a distributor of its complete line of towing and recovery vehicles.

Jerr-Dan is the single brand leader in the towing and recovery industry with distributors across the United States and in six continents. With its proximity to I-10 and additional interstates, Midco Sales is situated to conveniently serve the Phoenix-metro area as well as the entire southwestern United States.

“We’re pleased to be able to expand our footprint throughout the American Southwest by partnering with Midco Sales,” said Hal Wyatt, Director of Aftermarket Support at Jerr-Dan. “Midco has a strong existing reputation as a provider of high-quality transport trailers. We look forward to growing this new line of Midco’s business and delivering on our customers’ expectations together.”

Midco Sales was founded in 2012 as a trailer dealership for the over-the-road, aggregate hauling, construction, and equipment transport industries. Its addition as a Jerr-Dan distributor will complement its experience in the heavy-haul transport industry and its current line of heavy-haul transport trailers, said Mark Otto, the owner of Midco Sales.

“I have always viewed Jerr-Dan products as being top of the line in the towing and recovery industry,” Otto said. “That is the standard I have always set with the trailer lines I sell at Midco, and I am looking forward to expanding my offering with Jerr-Dan, a brand I’m proud of.”

In addition to being a Jerr-Dan and trailer distributor, Midco Sales also offers parts and service and offers more than 20,000 square feet of service bays.

Jerr-Dan continues to place an emphasis on distributor network growth to provide customers with a high level of local support and today has over 60 locations throughout North America and 15 internationally.
